

Registration

Register for this 2-day event by
February 1, 2019.

Marg Kutz
804-305-6100
margkutz72@gmail.com

Registration fee: $75 (includes lunch both days but not your purchase of the book)

Make checks payable to:

Margaret T. Kutz and mail to:
13709 Sandy Oak Road
Chester, VA 23831

Or pay through Venmo:

margaret-kutz-1

Attendance at both sessions, reading the book, and participation in the peer accountability are required to receive the conference 1.0 CEU.

Margaret Kutz
13709 Sandy Oak Road
Chester, VA 23831

TO:

Women Leaders Next Generation

from self-awareness to self-management

2 Day Workshop

February 13, 2019
10:00 AM-3:00 PM

May 8, 2019
11:00 AM-2:00 PM

Bon Air United Methodist
1645 Buford Road
North Chesterfield, VA, 23235

How Women Rise

Based on Sally Helgesen and Marshall Goldsmith's best-selling book "How Women Rise," we will explore the 12 habits that hold women back.

You will:

- + Identify the behaviors that get in your way.
- + Learn & practice new behaviors.
- + Identify an accountability partner.
- + Learn & practice how to be & have an accountability partner.
- + Practice new behaviors in real life.
- + Check in with your accountability partner as scheduled for 3 months.
- + Return to the group May 8 to check in
- + Determine next steps to conquer another habit.

NOTE: This event is TWO days:

February 13 and May 8, 2019.

Attendance at both, reading the book, and participating as an accountability partner are required to receive the 1.0 CEU.

This event is open to lay and clergy women of all denominations seeking to serve God to their fullest capacity.

Rev. Dr. Margaret Kutz

Marg, an elder in the Virginia Conference, is a coach and consultant with Path1 (The Board of Discipleship) and with Epicenter.

She has served small, medium, and large churches for 40 years.

She will serve as our seasoned leader as the group unpacks the 12 habits, shares their own experiences and knowledge, and learns new behaviors.

"You have likely read dozens of books on leadership. This is your opportunity to go from self-awareness to self-management. Take the extra step so you can move to a place where your gifts and graces will be fully employed by God.

I found Sally's identified 12 habits to be spot on and her suggestions for change value-based and practical. I wish I had had this opportunity years ago."
-Marg Kutz

IF YOU CAN CHECK EVEN ONE OF THESE BEHAVIORS, THEN YOU WILL BENEFIT FROM THESE TWO DAYS TOGETHER.

- Hesitate to put your ideas forward.
- Reluctant to claim credit for your achievements.
- Find it difficult to get the support and recognition you need from your senior pastor or DS.
- Hear yourself saying, "It's just easier to do it myself."
- Feeling resentment toward family and church because you are carrying more than your fair share of the load.
- Either or thinking (I lead like a woman not like a man).
- Struggle to use the word "I" when talking about your accomplishments.
- Feel telling the whole story will get your point across – love the narrative!
- If I just work harder doing everything perfectly, knowing how to do all aspects of ministry well, people will notice.
- I will not be part of church politics.
- I will not promote myself or use my friends to promote me.
- I am humble in everything, a servant leader, maybe even a suffering servant leader.